SCARECROWS

(By Vash Young)

I am one of those lucky fellows who inherited a fortune. It came after years of poverty and reckless living, as result of a death I had no cause to regret. The man who bequeathed riches to me was my former self. He died of selfishness, pessimism, fear, worry, vain regrets, envy. But this old Vash Young wasn't wholly bad, for he left me a great store of courage, contentment, patience and freedom from harmful appetites. I took his inheritance out into business and it has made me successful beyond my hopes.

As the old Vash Young I was an advertising salesman in New York, where, despite turmoil and sourness inside me, I managed to make a living while failing to make a life.
I hadn't the faintest idea of how happiness was to be achieved. Those were drinking, drifting days. Once I sank so low that I planned to have a look at the next life, in the belief that it could not be worse than this one.

But one day this idea popped in
to my mind:
"Suppose you owned a factory.
Would you manufacture in it only stuff you do not need? Would you deliberately operate it in such a way as to make it harmful to you the owner? Well, you do own a factory, a thought factory. You are owner, superintendent, night watchman. Nothing can come out of it except the products you design.

"A thought factory! That's what you have inside you," I said to myself, "and you have turned it into a junk factory. Take a look at your products. Fear, worry, impatience, anger, doubt. Your factory is a menace to yourself and a nuisance to others."

Obviously! Why hadn't I seen that before? My next step was to make a list of qualities that seemed ever-enduring: Love, Courage, Cheerfulness, Friendliness, Generosity, Tolerance, Justice, Nine magic words!
Night after night I sat alone with these words, fixing them in my consciousness, deciding what to do with them. Reflect them in my conduct, that's what I would do. They are all positive. They are dominant. They are stronger than their opposites.

"Live these words! That was the way out of the muck in which I had been sinking."
First of all I decided I must do something to vanquish fear. All my life I had been afraid. The thing I feared most was the loss of my job.
I decided to call the bluff of this great bully, fear. I quit my job with nothing saved. Deliberately I brought about the condition I most feared.

There is no finer sensation in life than that which comes with victory over one's self. The morning after I found myself jobless with less than $100.00 and with a wife and daughter trusting me to care for them, I had not one feeling of fear—only elation, romance, joy, at a new start in a new world.

I started from scratch, as an insurance salesman, the most highly competitive of occupations. I had to stop thinking about myself, forget the past, leave the future to care for itself and concentrate on today. Doubts tried to creep into my mind, but every time a negative thought came I thrust it out of my consciousness and thought of something worth while. This is a habit anyone can acquire. Try it. At first the unwelcome thoughts will struggle, but they are not strong enough to win.

For a time my household was hard up, but we were happier than we had ever been before, for we were fighting and winning a series of battles. One of my first tricks was to cut out all habits which seemed to be harmful. I found that liquor, coffee, tea and tobacco all could be dispensed with, so within the space of a single day I cut these things out of my life. It was not easy. It took reason and understanding to win the day. Domination over these habits was a great victory for me. A great victory almost always makes subsequent victories easy.

A second battle was to get rid of self-centeredness. For there came a time when our condition was desperate, and I wavered and had to check myself sharply. "When you are keenly conscious of your own needs, do something for somebody else," I demanded. So every Sunday for the next year I went to a hospital on the East Side of New York and sang for the crippled children there. Before that year was over, I had money. By refusing to put money first I had hit on a profitable program.

A third fight was my determination never to undertake any business venture if my happiness would be in the least disturbed in case it failed. When my dominion over disappointment was entrenched, I still had a bad temper to lick. A trivial adventure did that and was worth millions to me in happiness. After working very late one night, I dived into the subway, got tired, eager to be in bed. The guard of a waiting train slammed the door in my face.

FREE PUBLICITY

There are two sides to most things, though; and here's the newspaper angle of the free publicity question.
Last March, we promised editorially to give after the year end, some real statistics on this phase of the newspaper game, after a particularly impudent demand had been received.
During the year we segregated all the requests for free publicity received through the mails, bundling them up monthly and weighing them.

It will be worth while to remember that 100 sheets of letter paper typewritten, weigh one pound; and that 100 issues of this paper—2,500 columns of print—weigh 64 pounds.

We publish 52 papers a year—one a week—but the aggregate weight of the free publicity requested during 1932 was 18 pounds, 13 ounces, distributed as follows: January, 31
lbs. 2 ozs.; February, 1 lb. 2 ozs.; March, 2 lbs. 10 ozs.; April, 2 lbs.;
May, 1 lb. 12 ozs.; June, 1 lb. 7 ozs.;
July, 1 lb. 7 ozs.; August, 1 lb. 8 ozs.; September, 12 ozs.; October, 1 lb. 4 ozs.; November, 1 lb.; December, 1 lb. 4 ozs.

To even estimate the total weight of the whole aggregation would be a waste of time, but an analysis of one month's contributions aggregated 3,125 words. Compared with the front page of The News for December 28, they would furnish reading matter for 29 front pages; and in addition included 59 inches of illustrations towards their pictures we carry.

These figures are authentic—the figures are still here; and if, after reading the above, anyone still feels like asking a country newspaper for "free" publicity, why, they are welcome to ask.

It costs practically 25c a running inch to produce the front page of this paper, or about $35 for 1,000 copies which is the regular outturn. Yet these optimistic publicity hunters asked for 29 pages in January—free!

They paid for envelopes, paper, stationery and printing—we hope;
they paid for preparing and mailing their ideas and arguments; they paid the post office for bringing the stuff here. There is nothing free so far.

They couldn't get paper, labor or postage free—and neither can anybody else, including the newspapers.
"Free" publicity just simply ain't.
—Provost News.

There would not be another for 15 minutes. I felt hot anger sweep over me. I started to yell at the guard, but then I stopped. Why burn up what little energy I had left? Looking around, I saw a woman leaving the station with a baby and a suit case. I asked if I could help her, took her suitcase, hailed a taxicab drove her to her destination. Then I started home, two hours after I had missed the subway train. My fatigue was gone, and I was very happy. I had put myself through a course of discipline by doing something for somebody else.

The subject of fear is a favorite of mine. Fear is the greatest enemy of most persons. Every friend I have has lost something because of fear.
Read biographies and you encounter fear for men about whom biographies are written are usually those who overcome this emotion. Few persons go through life without at least one big chance. The fact that so many do not grasp it is due more often to fear than to any other thing. "Never strike a nail to fear," says Emerson, and every man who has occupied a commanding position has said the same.

No man has ever had a harder fight against fear than I had. There is not a doubt nor a dread nor a sick sensation I have not suffered.
Most people are afraid of something, but I was afraid of almost everything, including mice, thunderstorms, teachers, physical encounters. In my first days as a salesman I often became so nauseated as I contemplated my next call that I lost my food in the gutter. Literally that is true. Not once, but time after time, due always to fear. I have prayed—how I prayed!— that my prospects would be out of the office when I got there.

But one day I stopped and spoke to myself. "You miserable coward!" I said. "You set out to do a job and you crawl out on it. Go and see these men!" And I called on every one of the men I had dreaded to call on. I had delightful talks with some of them and went home happy.

When I was a farm boy used scarecrows in their fields. Fright birds, seeing the flapping of an old coat on crossed sticks, would fly away, but now and then a wiser bird would come down and enjoy a feast, using the scarecrow as a perch. Since I became tired of being a fool it has occurred to me time and again that the fears of life are nothing more than scarecrows. Realization of this is the heart of the fortune I inherited.

This inheritance as I have said, requires that I do everything possible for my fellow humans. I try.
I have made it a rule these past ten successful years to devote less than half of my time to my own affairs. A considerable part of my happiness comes from these extra official duties. I give each Saturday to people who are in trouble. The fortune which I share with people who come to me on "Trouble Day" is really my religion. This is what I think religion is:

It is saying gratefully in the morning, "Thank you, God, for what I have." Instead of, "Please give me a lot more."

It is trying to make somebody happier for the day before leaving home.

It is pausing long enough in the morning to telephone to some friend who may need a word of encouragement. In doing this you develop the habit of thinking more of others than of yourself. The results will surprise you. As an insurance salesman, for instance, my plans differ radically from the standard plan of selling. I always submit a policy smaller than I think the man should take out and let him raise it. That makes him feel comfortable. My idea always is to make a man on whom I call, glad that I came. This I do as a matter of ethics. It is just a fine break of life that in some cases business follows in the wake of considerate conduct.

Again, religion to me is planning for the day more constructive work than we can possibly do. It is the exercise of constant dominion over harmful emotions and false appetites. It is telling other people of

to the "sunshine days" by simply obeying nature's laws.

Avoid common constipation by eating a delicious

Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides
"bulk" to exercise the intesregularity. The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is similar to that Much wiser too. Two table-

HOW TO KEEP WARM

(By Barbara B. Brooks)

Fortunately nature which planned light the changing seasons also provided means for adjusting the body to varying temperatures. The unique thermostatically controlled heating system in the body helps us to combat cold weather by warming up from within. This is accomplished by "fueling" during the winter months with an extra supply of warming foods. In this class are steaming hot dishes and beverages, foods that are high in calories, a good supply of protein foods, such as milk, cheese, eggs and meat, extra fats and sweets, and by all means an abundance of cereals, for cereals afford a rich and ready source of heat.

If a warm cereal is preferred on cold mornings, cook one of the whole grain variety or spread whole wheat biscuits with butter and sugar, heat in the oven until crisp and warmed thoroughly and serve with warm milk.
Any of the other ready-to-eat cereals may also be served in this way.

This is the time of year when fried foods are most acceptable—croquet-tes, fritters, griddle cakes or doughnuts may hit just the right spot.
Put meat in bowl and add onion, salt, pepper, milk and eggs. Roll corn flakes into crumbs. Add to meat mixture. Mix thoroughly and form into balls. Fry or saute slowly in butter.
Yield: 12 small meat balls, 4 to 5 servings.

Bran Doughnuts
1 cup bran, ¾ cup sour milk or buttermilk, 2 eggs, ¾ cup sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 3 cups flour, ½ teaspoon baking powder, 2 tablespoons shortening.
Soak bran in milk. Beat eggs until foamy. Add sugar, salt, and baking powder. Mix thoroughly. Add flour and shortening. Mix thoroughly. Roll into balls. Fry in hot oil. Drain on paper. Yield: 12 doughnuts.

Banana Fritters
Peel bananas, cut in halves crosswise or in quarters, and roll in corn-flake crumbs. Fry in very hot deep fat, 395° F., until light brown. Drain on soft paper and serve with broiled cheese, steak or ham.

Alberta News Letter

(Issued by the Publicity Commission, Government Buildings, Edmonton, January 14, 1933).

Coal Production
Alberta's total coal production for 1932 to the end of November was 4,516,622 tons, an increase of nearly half a million tons over the same period of 1931.

Alberta Health Conditions
General health conditions in Alberta during the past year have been the best on record, according to the reports of the provincial health department, a new high mark for freedom from communicable diseases having been established. The year's death rate, 7.2 per 1,000, was somewhat lower than the previous year, while infant mortality showed a marked improvement, being only 58 deaths under one year of age, in each 1,000 births, compared with the rate of 67 deaths the year before.

Large Sugar Beet Crop
Final estimates on Alberta's sugar beet crop for the past season, given by the Raymond sugar factory, show that 150,000 tons of beets were harvested over the contracted acreage, and the sugar run will total 145,000 lbs. The beet growers of Southern Alberta this year passed the 10-ton per acre average for the total acreage under contract. In one district the average reached almost 12 tons, while some individual crops ran 15 to 20 tons. The season yielded the heaviest crop yet known in the province. With increased capacity installed last fall, the factory at Raymond produced 450,000 bags of sugar this season, or about six times the amount turned out in 1925.

Feeding of Cattle
More than 13,000 head of beef cattle are on winter feeding throughout the province during the present winter, according to the provincial livestock branch. Of these, some 3,000 head come under the plan inaugurated by the Red Label Association, which is a co-operative arrangement between ranchers and farmers for the feeding of the cattle from the ranges by the farmers.

This will mean that something over a million pounds of good quality beef will be ready for the markets in the coming spring. In the Calgary district there are some 3,000 head on the feed lots, with 2,500 in the Edmonton district, about 1,500 in the Lethbridge district, 1,100 head in the High River district and 1,500 head in the Lacombe district, 1,000 head in the Olds and Innisfail district, and the balance scattered in small lots at various points in the province.

In addition to the cattle on feed, there are over 30,000 lambs also on winter feeding, of which nearly 14,000 are in the Lethbridge area, and some 10,000 in the Brooks area.

Province Pays Interest
Holders of provincial savings certificates received their annual dividend in the shape of interest cheques during the past week, covering interest on demand certificates for the past year. A total of 7,149 cheques have been mailed out by the provincial treasury department, covering a total of $306,125.56 in interest payments.

Ment interest has been shown by depositors in the new savings plan inaugurated by the treasury department last April, in making available certificates for deposits made for one, two or three years, to bear interest at 5 per cent. There has been a very gratifying response to this plan, many depositors taking advantage of it.

DANGER WORN TIRES

It has been pretty definitely established that the rear right tire is the first to wear out, the rear left next, the front right next and the front left last of all.

As a result, practice has become almost general to shift the worn out rear tires to the front wheels with the idea of evening up the wear. This, however, is dangerous.

When a worn tire blows out on a rear wheel, while the car is travelling at a high rate of speed, the driver still has enough control of the front wheels to guide the car safely out of a dangerous skid.

When, however, a front tire lets go, and the car is moving fast, there is almost nothing the driver can do. The steering is thrown out of his control, the car is forced into a serious skid, and there are great possibilities of injuries to all in the car.

Rather have a worn tire on a rear wheel, even though it will wear down so much faster, than risk it to the front. For greater safety, however, a tire that shows the first mark of a tread worn down to the bone should be taken off and used only as a spare.

Even as a spare, it should be in use only long enough to get a good replacement.

GRASSHOPPER PLAGUE FEARED; THOUSANDS OF EGGS IN GROUND

St. Paul, Jan. 13.—Entomologists of Minnesota and North Dakota Monday predicted another grasshopper outbreak was probable this year and urged early action to prevent widespread destruction.

A. G. Ruggles, of St. Paul, who directed Minnesota's extensive fight against the crop-hungry insects last year, said enough eggs were now in the frozen ground to hatch a devastating horde.

J. A. Munro, of Fargo, entomologist of the North Dakota agricultural college, said egg pods were in such abundance, except in a few counties, to warrant expectation of serious damage.

Ruggles, who estimated at $5,000,000 the north central United States crop loss caused by the insects in 1932, has for some time urged a federal appropriation of $20,000 a year to keep the pest under control.

Saskatoon, Jan. 13th.—Southeastern Saskatchewan, particularly that section between Estevan and the Manitoba boundary, is expected to be quite seriously affected by grasshoppers this year and moderate infestation is likely over a wide area across the entire province and extending northwards to the vicinity of Saskatoon.

This information was forthcoming Monday night by E. M. King, in charge of the dominion entomological laboratory at the university here.

Few farmers, he said, had been able to take advantage of advice given last August, and fall plow their land, and this would probably mitigate towards quite serious infestation.

Spring plowing would have little effect in combatting the hoppers, he stated, urging farmers to start work on summerfallow as soon as possible. He advised plowing this land in strips and to place poison on the intermediate strips.

MOTHERS AND BABIES

Nature is wonderful. Instincts are strong forces. Man has progressed because he has used his power of reasoning to learn the secrets of nature, and to guide the expression of his instincts into ways that are acceptable to our present civilization.

In days gone by, it was thought that when a woman was going to have a baby, nature, through the woman's instincts, would give her all the information required with regard to the proper care of herself and her baby. Today, most people realize that this is not so; nevertheless, comparatively few mothers secure the advice they need early in pregnancy. The result is that much illness and suffering occur which could be prevented.

The vast majority of babies are born in a perfectly normal and safe manner. The comparatively few abnormal cases can usually be made safe for the mother and the baby if proper supervision is maintained during pregnancy and adequate care secured at confinement.

Supervision should begin very early in pregnancy. If there be any abnormal condition present, it will be revealed by the examinations made, and whatever treatment is required can be given promptly.

The illnesses which develop during pregnancy usually come on gradually. The earliest signs or symptoms of these undesirable conditions are detected early if the woman is under regular supervision. The early detection of these conditions may mean the saving of the woman's life, or the prevention of years of invalidism and suffering.

During pregnancy, a balanced diet is important, both for the mother and for the baby. Over-indulgences should be avoided. Milk, green vegetables and fruits should be regularly used as these provide the minerals and vitamins which are required in greater abundance at this time. The teeth and the bones of the new baby demand mineral salts for their proper formation.

Early in pregnancy, the expectant mother should have her teeth examined and treated. Sound teeth and a clean mouth contribute to good digestion which is a matter of great importance. An infected mouth is a menace to the mother.

The belief that babies are marked as a result of some disagreeable occurrence is not founded on fact. The expectant mother should follow the advice of her doctor and ignore the advice of relatives and friends, who may mean well but who are usually uninformed. Worries should be discussed with the doctor, who can give the mother information that will dispel her fears and anxieties.

"Every child comes with the message that God is not yet discouraged with man."

THE PRODUCTION AND PREPARATION OF SEED GRAIN

(Experimental Farms Note)

Good seed grain may be defined as clean, sound and uniformly plump grain obtained from strong, healthy plants belonging to a pure or relatively pure variety which is well adapted to the needs of the district in which it is to be used.

Where one is obliged to purchase seed, the safest seed in which to invest is "Registered Seed," since it is officially guaranteed to possess all of the qualifications of good seed, as above defined. This guarantee has behind it the Canadian Seed Growers' Association and the Dominion Seed Branch aided by the Experimental Farms Branch of the Federal Department of Agriculture.

The use of varieties which are adapted to the district where they are to be grown is a matter of importance and since many new varieties are constantly under test at our Experimental Stations, farmers should note carefully the results obtained at these institutions and be guided by them.

In the production of good seed, care should be taken to see that the crop

ORANGE PEKOE BLEND "SALADA" TEA

"Fresh from the Gardens"

is fully mature before cutting. Where low spots occur, it may be necessary to handle them separately in order to provide against the inclusion of unripe grain.

In threshing the crop, the concaves should not be set so close that the grain will be damaged. At present a great deal of really good barley is damaged from a seed standpoint, during the threshing operations, by having the ends of the kernels broken or otherwise injured. Close threshing is liable to injure the germ.

The next step in the preparation of good seed grain consists in the fanning and grading of the grain to remove light kernels, weed seeds and dirt. For this undertaking the screens to be used must be carefully selected to insure that the openings are of the proper size and shape to perform the work required. Many good fanning mills have been discarded simply on account of the absence of suitable screens, whereas material for the construction of such screens can be had from, or through, the manufacturer of the machine.

During the past seven or eight years, the difficulty in connection with the proper cleaning and grading of seed grain has been reduced considerably by the opening up of custom cleaning plants which are equipped with power fanning mills and graders, and well supplied with sieves to clean and grade the different kinds of grain that may be brought to them. These cleaning plants are often provided with blowers for cleaning floors, bins and shoots so that contamination from these sources is reduced to the minimum.

Cleaned grain should always be placed immediately in clean containers and protected from all danger of contamination.

ALL IN KNOWING HOW

What is it that causes one person to suffer severe injury in a short fall and another to escape in dropping comparatively greater distances? Perhaps it's all in knowing how to fall. In football games clever players have a certain way of hitting the ground when tackled that prevents them from being hurt. Actors possess the same faculty, when struck down on the stage. One reads of people falling several stories from hotel windows and escaping with minor injuries; while broken limbs or fractured heads are not infrequently caused by falls not greater than a man's height. Little tots and babies often get away without being hurt. George Dawkins, aged 17 months, fell from a second story window at his home, Hornell, N.Y., landing on his back, without an injury of any description.

Such is the way of the world and although the sun shines on the just and the unjust alike, this doesn't always apply to the extent of injuries received by persons who fall out of windows. — St. Thomas Times-Journal.

A woman cured her husband of staying out late at night by going to the door when he came home and whispering through the keyhole, "Is that you Willie?" Her husband's name is John, and he stays at home every night now and sleeps with one eye open and a revolver under his pillow.

Troubled With Indigestion Pains In Stomach After Meals

The pains and distress caused from indigestion or dyspepsia may be removed by the use of B.B.B.

It tones up and restores the stomach to normal condition so that it digests food without causing discomfort.

Mrs. C. O. Chamberlain, Sherbrooke, Que., writes:—"I had been troubled with indigestion and pains in my stomach after meals."

My mother recommended Burdock Blood Bitters, so I got a bottle and after taking it was greatly relieved."

I recommend it for indigestion, or any form of stomach disorder."

WHEN THE PAPER DOES NOT COME

My father says the paper he reads ain't put up right. He finds a lot of fault, he does, perusin' it all night. He says there ain't a single thing in it worth while to read. And that it doesn't print the kind of stuff the people need. He tosses it aside and says it's strictly on the bum—But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He reads about the weddin's and he snorts like all get out. He reads the social doin's with a most derisive shout. He says they make the paper for the women folks alone. He'll read about the parties and he'll fret and fume and groan; He says of information it doesn't have a crumb. But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

He's always first to grab it and he reads it plumb clear through. He doesn't miss an item or a want ad—this is true. He says they don't know what we want, the darn newspaper guys. He thinks he'll write a letter and really put them wise. Sometimes it seems as though they must be blind and deaf and dumb. But you ought to hear him holler when the paper doesn't come.

When you need printing in a hurry, When it simply must come through, When the job is mighty particular—Let The Times do it for you!

A SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT

That old saying, Friday the 13th, being a "hoax" proved just the opposite for the Millet Players who, last Friday evening, under the efficient directorship of Mrs. S. C. Moen and the auspices of the Rebekah Lodge, presented the popular Sact play entitled "A Poor Married Man."

About 7:30 large crowds were seen wending their way to Phynon's hall.

GIRLS DON'T BE SKINNY! MEN ADMIRE CURVES

I WAS FLAT CHESTED, RUN DOWN AND SKINNY UNTIL I TOOK VINOL IRON TONIC. THEN MY FIGURE BEGAN TO FILL OUT AND I GOT MORE CURVES TO MY BODY. I HAVE NO TROUBLE GETTING BOY FRIENDS FOR DANCES AND PARTIES NOW. GET VINOL AT YOUR DRUGGIST. IT TASTES GOOD.

Get Your VINOL Today at COOKE DRUG COMPANY

By the time the curtain was raised the hall was filled with a capacity crowd.

The play opened showing Billy Blake (Howard Olsen), a popular college boy, decorating the living room of Professor Wise's bungalow with old shoes and streamers for Professor Wise (C. A. Kent) and his bride Zola (Josephine Ingles) who are returning from their honeymoon.

Billy Blake was surveying his handiwork when Miss Rosalind Wilson (Clara Grapentine), a pretty college reporter, dropped in to interview the bride and groom. But the bride on the stage at this time proved to be a dummy—a student joke.

While Miss Wilson was making her notes she was interrupted by Jupiter Jackson (Tom Wolfe) the professor's comely handy-man, entering with his broom and dustpan for his daily cleanup. He immediately became very much concerned about the "Decorations," especially the "dummy." He was alarmed by the entrance of Mrs. Iona Ford (Mrs. Stanley Scott) the bride's mother. After a brief conversation with Jupiter they prove to be old acquaintances. Mrs. Ford once proceeded to take charge of the household management by ordering Jupiter to remove the decorations.

Following the exit of Mrs. Ford, Zola (the bride) inspects her new home. She was very much disappointed in her husband's actions and in the mischief of the students.

Midst the cheers of the students the professor appears on the scene feeling very happy—the result of too much toothache medicine. While meandering around the room the professor discovers a lady. He proceeds to dance with her, but discovers she also is one of the "Decorations."

In the second act the professor is very much upset upon learning from Billy Blake, Jupiter and Miss Wilson of the mysterious disappearances of his wife's three former husbands after eating lobster salad. During his meditations the professor was interrupted by the arrival of Dr. Graham (S. C. Moen), a country physician, and his charming daughter June (Alva Wolfe), who have come to arrange for June to enter college.

Billy Blake, thinking Wise is married to Zola, informs him that he loves Zola and wishes to marry her. Mrs. Ford discharges the cook and Zola prepares a lobster salad for lunch. This enrages the professor, who thinks they are trying to poison him, and provokes a quarrel, which ends by Mrs. Ford explaining "The Lobster Salad Theory." The professor forgives Zola but the mother-in-law insists on a divorce.

Act three (two years later) opens showing the professor and his wife (the former June Graham), seated at the breakfast table with Jupiter acting as nursemaid to their young daughter. While they were conversing, Jupiter, who had previously taken the baby to the nursery, enters with letters from Dr. Graham and Billy Blake, informing them of an intended visit from each of them. Dr. Graham seems very nervous and ill-natured and finally breaks the ice by informing them he has presented them with a new mother-in-law. The new mother-in-law proves to be none other than Mrs. Iona Ford, who is accompanied by her daughter Zola. Billy arrives and he informs Mrs. Graham that her former husband is alive and prosperous. Billy still loves Zola and after hearing of her divorce they plan an immediate marriage. When Mrs. Graham learns that her former husband is still alive and wealthy she decides to return to him, much to the relief of the doctor. The play concludes by the cast deciding "That marriage is a great and grand success."

WIESENFORD W.I.

(Introduced for last week)

The December meeting of the Wiesenford W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. Fred King. The newly elected officers are:

President—Mrs. H. A. Fulcher.
Vice-President—Mrs. R. Newbold.
Sec.—Mrs. W. Burdon.
Directors—Mrs. J. Crough, Mrs. F. King, Mrs. R. Roland.
Auditors—Mrs. E. Neff and Mrs. A. Silvers.

The January meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Neff, nearly every member being present.

The roll call was "My most outstanding economy for the past year." This brought out some very useful and unusual ideas.

Five dollars was donated from W.I. funds, to a member whose house had been destroyed by fire. It was also arranged that all members would meet at the new home of the member on Friday, January 6th, each bringing donations of fruit, vegetables, etc.

Two card parties were arranged for January. The first to be held at the home of Mrs. Ed. Neff on Jan. 10th; the second to be held at the home of Mrs. Howard Fulcher, on Jan. 24th. A silver collection will be taken at each party instead of the usual fixed charge, ladies to bring refreshments.

The February meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. O. Smith. Roll call, exchange of Valentines.

A dainty supper was served by Mrs. Neff.

FALUN

A dance was held under the auspices of the Falun Sportsmen on Friday evening last. This was held in the Falun school, with the local orchestra in attendance. All report a most enjoyable time.

There was quite a turnout at the Sportsmen's annual meeting on Saturday evening last. The election of officers took place, which resulted as follows: President, O. Mattson; Vice-President, N. Soboleff; Sec.—Treas., And. Anderson. Several new members were also enrolled.

A social gathering of the members of the Vasa Order with their families took place in Lone Ridge hall last Saturday evening. A very large crowd was in attendance. There were treats of candies, apples, etc., for children and grownups. They held a concert of songs, and folk dances, in which young and old took part. They all report a most enjoyable time.

WINFIELD U.F.A.

People turned out from all directions on Tuesday evening last, coming to Winfield to hear Wm. Irvine, M.P. for Strathcona Constituency, speak on "The Present Crisis and the Way Out." Mr. Irvine's address was a very inspiring one, giving in clear terms the causes which have brought about the present world conditions, and the only way open to bring about better conditions in the future. He outlined the aims of the new Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation, and told of the enthusiasm with which the new party is being received throughout Canada. An interested and sympathetic audience listened throughout Mr. Irvine's talk, the hall being filled to capacity. The meeting was held under the auspices of the U.F.A.

The regular meeting of the U.F.A. was held at the home of Syd Haabury, Saturday evening, a good attendance being on hand.

There is an Easy Street. The optimist declares, But, he explains, right now, It's undergoing repairs.

NEW RINKS FORMED BY LADIES' CURLING CLUB

The lady curlers met Saturday afternoon for social games of curling, after which tea was served by Mrs. McMurdo's rink. The skips then drew for new rinks, and the personnel follows:

Groves (skip), Thrasher, Rankin, Harmon.
Wright (skip), Switzer, Colpitts, Westwood.
Merner, Barkholder (skips), Recknagle, Wales.
Miquelon (skip), Orr, Henderson, Ragosin.
Kelley (skip), Inglis, Tetreau, Scharr.
McMurdo (skip), Chiddy, Kuehn, Robinson.

Saturday next, Jan. 21, the ladies will meet at 3 p.m. to play for points. Tea will be served by Mrs. Groves' rink.

WETASKIWIN DEFEATED BY BIG SIX LEAGUE TEAM

The Wetaskiwin Juvenile hockey team journeyed to Ponoka on Saturday evening last to pit their strength against the team representing the neighboring town in the Big Six League, and made a very creditable showing, although the score shows 6-1 against them. The tally for Wetaskiwin was made by Paton on a pass from Brown. Wetaskiwin battled hard all the way, and with a little more luck with their shots the score would have been quite different.

It is expected that Ponoka will play a return game here on Saturday evening, and as the local boys will have a much stronger team on the ice, it should prove to be a very fast and interesting encounter. The team has not been receiving the financial support this season that might be reasonably expected, and the management appeals for a large crowd to see this game, promising that the spectators will "get their money's worth."

The Wetaskiwin lineup for the Ponoka game was: Goal, R. Watson; defence, Schneek and Richards; forwards, Brown, McMurdo, Paton, Irvine, Greiner and Blenkinsstaff.

WEEKLY STOCK MARKET REPORT

The following is a report of the Edmonton Stock Yards, as supplied to The Times for the week ending Jan. 17th, 1933:

Receipts: Cattle, 301; Calves, 40; Hogs, 1550; Sheep, 128.

Receipts of cattle so far this week have been very light. Buyers are operating freely, and salesmen are finding no difficulty in placing their offerings quite readily, at steady to strong prices. In consequence trading is quite brisk and the market generally more active. Medium in-between steers were strong, and showing a 25¢ per cwt. advance. The following are the prices:

Good to choice lightweights $3.50 to $4.00; with mediums from $2.75 to $3.25. The general run of good butcher steers selling at $3.00 to $3.50; choice kids bringing a little more; mediums $2.50 to $3.00; and common to fair from $1.50 to $2.00. Good to choice handweight butcher heifers $3.00 to $3.50; mediums $2.25 to $2.75; good hawsies $2.25 to $2.50; and common to fair from $1.50 to $2.00. Good butcher cows $1.75 to $2.00; common to medium $1.00 to $1.50; canners and cutters 50¢ to $1.00, and bulls $1.00 to $1.25.

There has been fair action noticeable on the stocker market, with prices remaining about steady and unchanged. The general run of lighter grade stockers selling at $2.25 to $2.75; with plain to medium $1.50 to $2.00; stocker cows 75¢ to $1.50.

Calf market steady, with buyers easier in their grading. Choice light kids up to $4.75. Bulk of good $4.00 to $4.50; plain to medium $2.50 to $3.50.

Hogs unsettled. A few locals sold today at $2.60. Bulk of hogs held over. Selects bringing a premium of 50¢ or cwt. and butchers discounted at 50¢ per cwt. Following are the cuts on the off-grade hogs: Heavies discounted 65¢ per cwt.; extra heavies 75¢ per cwt. No. 1 sows 85¢ per cwt.; No. 2 sows $1.00; roughs $1.50 and sheep $1.60.

The sheep and lamb market remains fully steady with light offerings. Good to choice lambs selling at $3.50 to $4.00; common to medium $2.00 to $2.25; yearlings $2.00 to $3.00 and ewes $1.00 to $2.00.

You would not be ashamed of your stationery if it had been printed at The Times office.

NON-TAXPAYERS MAY RECEIVE SPECIAL RATES AT HOSPITAL

At the regular meeting of the Wetaskiwin Community Hospital Board on Wednesday evening, it was agreed that the election of officers and the selection of committees of the board take place annually at the April meeting.

The appointment of L. Wilson as secretary-treasurer at a salary of $30 a month was confirmed.

The equipment committee was authorized to purchase two oxygen tanks and the necessary equipment for same.

Accounts to the amount of $748.98 were passed for payment.

The matter of engaging staff and caretaker was left with the executive committee.

Mayor Torsen presented the board with a cheque for the sum of $318.00, this being a donation from the Scandinavian Hospital Association.

It was agreed that rates applicable to taxpayers be extended to non-taxpayers resident in the Municipal District of Montgomery and the City of Wetaskiwin at $6.00 per family, and for residents outside these municipalities $8.00 per family per annum.

The contract is to be placed on sale until the 15th of February for the year 1933, and are obtainable at the offices of the secretary of the M.D. of Montgomery and the secretary-treasurer of the Community Hospital Board and at the Hospital.

VICTORY CHAPTER O.E.S.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS

The officers of Victory Chapter No. 32 Order of the Eastern Star, were installed on Friday evening by Sister Winona French, assisted by Sister Gertrude MacAllister as marshal.

The officers installed were:

W.M.—Sister Agnes MacEachern. W.T.—Bro. Peter Blundell.

A.M.—Sister Bertha Ballhorn. A.P.—Bro. Chas. H. Boyer.

Con.—Sister Alma Chiddy. A. Con.—Sister Dora Ballhorn.

The Little Dream House

It was a darling house. White frame shining through the glossy green of tree leaves. A lilac bush, sending love-making potions through the dusky spring air for strolling young sweethearts to breathe. A gloriously wild yard laid out in neat paths and springy grass carpets. Grand for a child to play in.

And on the simple front porch, smothered by concealing vines, wicker chairs, table, scattered magazines, flowers. Also, rocking in the twilight, the loneliest person in Dalton, Miss Amanda Cummings, middle-aged spinster.

All Dalton knew Amanda's story—how her Tom twenty years before had lost his life in saving the little girl whose parents lived across the railroad tracks. On the eve of their wedding, it was. How Amanda, sprightly, merry-eyed, loving every baby in Dalton, had altered into an austere, money-mocking, silent old maid who avoided children religiously—thereafter.

How her efficiency as stenographer had made her a coveted employee of Dalton's business concerns. How her parsimonious years had been spent in a cheap boarding-house, until at 45 she had suddenly built this adorable little cottage.

Everybody seemed amazed. Gossip curled, conjectures flew. Why had Amanda done it? Only one person knew. Stella Marsden, a childhood friend, invited to see the interior a month after completion.

Stella, dropping in with her grandchild, apologized timidly as she noticed Amanda's hospitable smile after a frown at the sight of the fat, blue-eyed girl on her arm. "Sorry," said Stella meekly, "my daughter Jane left baby in my care. I—I had to bring her."

Stella, walking slightly in front, could not notice the little gesture Amanda was making toward the cooling baby over her shoulder.

"It's—It's wonderful," ejaculated Stella, staring enviously at the little footstools, big stout armchairs—the paintings.

"Why—why you've a picture—of a child," she gasped foolishly, pointing to the little girl raptly gazing at a bird.

"A—a famous reproduction—slight belligerence in Amanda's voice. It gave way to eagerness—the shy, subtle appeal for appreciation, approval. It seemed to say, 'Don't laugh at what I am going to tell you—show you!' A new Amanda, thought Stella, big-eyed, curious.

"Here's the kitchen," leading the way through a small hall.

"Oh, Amanda," speechless, Stella leaned against the jamb. If the living room was denuded, the kitchen was frivolous, honey-moonish, young. Silken flower drapes at small windows, rakish cushions on the rocking chairs—straight ones. Geraniums, bleeding-hearts on the sill. And against the scarlet satin pillow

ANOTHER ANGLE TO WAR DEBTS

The people of this country always think of Britain and the United States when the subject of war debts is brought up for discussion. Their minds recall the burden carried by Britain during the war and the fact that the United States, in the protection of her own interests, had to join Britain in combating German militarism. It does not occur to them that there is another side to the question that bulks large in the minds of the hard-pressed taxpayer of the United States.

France is spending hundreds of millions of dollars yearly upon fortresses, warships, tanks and military organization. She has 150 times as much gold as is needed to pay the war debt installment that fell due on December 15th. Much of the French debt to the United States was incurred after the armistice was signed. Some of the debt was for munitions of war which were sold by France for scores of millions of dollars, the money being retained by her instead of being turned over on account to those who supplied the war material. With such a set of conditions why should French taxpayers be relieved of their obligations at the direct expense of the taxpayers of the United States.

The United States is facing probably the largest deficit that ever confronted a national government. Unemployment is much more acute there than it is in France. Business interests are under greater strain and the working classes are suffering more severely. Not unnaturally the people of the United States feel that they should not be called upon to cancel the comparatively small annual debt payments owing by France so as to enable that country to maintain her armaments on a scale that dominates Europe.—Toronto Star.

QUESTION IS UNIQUE

"Is a widow an unmarried woman?" as contemplated by the Child Welfare Act. This interesting question will shortly be argued in the court of appeal, where the matter was carried from a judgment of Mr. Justice Adamson, who said she was not.

Annie Hawrysh, Sky Lake, Man., made claim to certain relief on which an "unmarried woman" would be entitled under the act. Actually she is a widow. The case came before F. A. E. Hamilton, sitting as a magistrate, but before the argument got fairly advanced counsel for the defendant raised the objection that the magistrate had no jurisdiction because the claimant was a widow.

A prohibition order was granted by Mr. Justice Adamson restraining the magistrate from proceeding further. From that decision an appeal is now pending.

BRITISH BUILD NEW CAR

The most powerful car the world has ever known has been launched from a small workshop situated on the Brooklands track in Weybridge, England. It is the new Bluebird in which that restless and daring speed demon, Malcolm Campbell, will make a fresh assault upon his own land record that he set up at Daytona Beach.

The car has taken nine months to build, the finest craftsmen in Britain being employed in its construction. Greatest secrecy was carried out in order that rivals would not be able to steal the plans. In making its debut, the huge car, it was found, would not go through the entrance, part of the factory had to be torn away to extricate it.

It is truly an all British car. Even down to the smallest bolt and nut, which are tested with the finest precision instrument in the world. A false thread may cost the life of the driver when the car reaches 300 miles per hour as it is expected to. It develops almost 2,500 h.p., exceeding by 1,000 h.p. the next most powerful engine in the world.

What will happen when this tremendous power is let loose is more or less theoretical. It is estimated that the engine will hurl the four and-a-half-ton mass at over 5 miles per minute. His gear ratios are so arranged that he will get into second gear at 60 m.p.h. and change into top gear at 130 m.p.h.

Just imagine changing gears at that speed! It's a delicate operation, for to race this machine in low gear would undoubtedly be disastrous, but once in high gear he can let her go. Sir Malcolm admits that his biggest concern is whether she will remain on the ground, for engineers consider it possible that she may rise like an aeroplane when 300 miles per hour is reached.

Gasoline tanks are made to hold 26 gallons of gas, although the run is only one mile they allow ten miles pulling up distance. The gasoline is fairly gulped down.

THE TEACHER

There's much to learn from laughter. We could not learn from sighs. For mirth is kin to morning. And radiant rosy skies.

And laughing lips are wisest. They speak no bitter word. But send their gladness winging. To heaven like a bird.

For joy can win us friendship. And love which will abide. Long after colder learning. From out our thoughts has died.

O, Laughter, merry teacher, Do not forsake us long; But bring, our ways to brighten. Your younger brother, Song!

There's much to learn from laughter. That tears could never give. For laughter lends us courage. A fuller life to live!

TAKE YOUR CUTTINGS NOW

(Experimental Farms Note)
Early winter is the most suitable time to take cuttings of certain trees and small shrubs. At this time the wood is dormant, the weather is usually moderate and there is less snow to interfere with the work.

There seems to be considerable confusion as to what varieties can be used for cuttings. Among trees grown on the prairie, all poplars and willows can be readily grown from cuttings. Manitoba maple, ash, elm and caragana cannot be readily propagated in this way. Among small shrubs, red, white and black currants are easily grown from cuttings. It is possible to use cuttings from gooseberries but layering is the better method to use. Root division should be used exclusively for raspberries. With trees, one to two year old wood is satisfactory. Wood about half an inch in diameter usually is the most practical. For currants, choose wood which grew last season. Make cuttings six to eight inches in length. It is advisable to dip both ends in paraffin to prevent drying out.

Care should be taken to have these properly stored until required for planting in early spring. Cold storage is necessary, and at the Dominion Experimental Station, Scott, Sask., an underground pit is used for this purpose. Many horticulturists say cuttings should be stored in an upright position, tied in bunches with small ends down. Your nearest experimental farm will gladly supply information about planting them.

EDWARD G. ROBINSON in "TIGER SHARK"

Oshawa, Jan. 9.—It is many years since the automobile industry became efficiently mechanized to a point where one machine does the work of a score of men, but the re-introduction of hand-work into the General Motors factory here, has released many devices and given employment to a great portion of the 2,000 men who went back to work recently.

First Visitor: My dear, these cakes are as hard as a stone.
Second Visitor: I know. Didn't you hear her say "Take your pick," when she handed them around.

Could Not Lie Down to Sleep
She Was So Short of Breath

Mrs. P. J. Chernoff, Shoreacres, B.C., writes:—"I had been so troubled with shortness of breath I could not lie down to sleep. I couldn't do any hard work, or climb the stairs, and had nervous and smothering feelings, and became very weak. I tried all kinds of medicine, but could not get any relief, until after I had taken three boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills, and since then I have felt better in every way."

For sale at all drug and general stores; put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MERGER OF U.F.A. AND C.O.F.
TO BE DEBATED AT CALGARY

Calgary, Jan. 16. — Probably the most important question to be decided at the 25th annual convention of the United Farmers of Canada, which will open here Tuesday, will be the question of affiliation with the Co-operative Commonwealth Federation. While opinion has been expressed by some officials that affiliation is almost an assured fact, others intimate that there will be quite a fight over the matter.

It is anticipated that more than 300 delegates will attend the convention which will be held in the Palliser hotel, and with more than 500 resolutions confronting them, delegates look forward to an extremely busy time.

Among other serious questions which will have to be settled will be that of the proposed farm strike advocated to take place in the spring, and brought forward by the Rumsey local. Farm debt problems will be considered and penalty on taxes, currency inflation, nationalized credit and currency and demand for general investigation into agricultural conditions are almost sure to bring forward sharp debate.

The East Edmonton Federal Constituency U.F.A. association is advocating the early establishment by the dominion government of a national wheat marketing board and it is expected that this will be energetically represented to the government.

Robert Gardiner, M.P. for Acadia, and president of the U. F. A. will preside at the four days gathering. The U.F.W.A. will meet for three days, commencing Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. A. H. Warr presiding.

ANNOUNCEMENT

The engagement is announced between Hilda Mary Heath, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Heath, late of Loughheed, now of Wetaskiwin, and Mr. Gordon Brown, second son of the late Archie Brown and Mrs. A. Brown of Loughheed, now stationed at Lacombe, marriage to take place quietly at end of January.—Community Press.

Watch for Bladder Weakness

After Colds, Grippe and "Flu"

"Have you had a hard cold, grippé or 'flu' this winter? Then by all means watch and guard your kidneys and bladder for they are apt to be left weakened, clogged and sluggish from your illness," says Dr. Southworth, prominent practicing physician. Many chronic kidney and bladder ailments start this way, and it is best to "nip" them at the start, before they get dangerous and hard to overcome. Watch for weakness or stiffness and pain in your side, back and loins, scanty or highly colored urine with sediment like brick dust, frequent desire, night rising, pain or pressure, inflammation or prickling, scalding sensation. If you have any of these symptoms, your bladder needs help at once, and you should ask your druggist for Dr. Southworth's special Uratabs prescription which for many years has been giving quick, sure relief in just such conditions to thousands of people living in this section. One package—lasting ten days—can generally be depended on to get you functioning naturally again, and even the first day's use brings blessed relief in nearly every case. There have been so often and thoroughly proved that Dr. Southworth tells every druggist to refund the price of the first package to any purchaser who is not completely satisfied with results.
